It is essential that members understand that we are a cooperative, and not merely a club or association. The members as a whole are responsible for maintaining the camp and the cooperative itself. While being a responsible member when staying at camp is essential, we also value those who contribute effort critical for maintaining the camp and the organization. Please describe any ways in which you have contributed to the Camp in the past, and how you anticipate contributing in the future:

Do you volunteer for other cooperative or non-profit organizations?

How did you learn of Rapidan Camps?
